One Dollar A Year.

From this time forth THE STAR has decided to adopt a new regulation governing the financial part of its business. And that is to make the subscription price one dollar a year to all who will pay in advance. Those who want THE STAR for that price can get it by settling all arrears and paying an extra dollar in advance. New subscribers will also receive the advance yearly dollar rate. The price will remain the same as heretofore, $1.50 a year, but a discount of 50 cents will be given those who pay in advance. THE STAR would like all its old subscribers to avail themselves of this offer and as many new ones as possible. Remember we will tick strictly to the $1.50 a year price when the subscription is not paid in advance. This special offer holds good until the 1st of January, 1896.

A Little of Everything.

"A child's among ye taking notes, And faith he'll print em." When does advertising pay? When the darkness follows day. When the winter precedes spring. When the song birds learn to sing. When the deaf no longer hear. When the miser loves his beer. When the chickens peck their wear. When the sailor leaves to steer. When the shiftless go in debt. When the running streams are wet. When the tramp for leisure years. When the ice no longer burns. When the business man is wise. Then's the time to advertise. -Kansas City Journal.

Welsh Bros. show gave two exhibitions in Reynoldsville Saturday. It was a cheap show, cheap looking show and a very tough looking gang that traveled with it. Those who attended the show said the performance was as good as could be expected for the price of admission, twenty cents.

The Prohibitionists have made arrangements to give the citizens of Reynoldsville a first-class free entertainment in Centennial hall on Friday evening of this week. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Beveridge, noted singers, will sing a number of selections and Hon. W. H. Berry, Prohibition candidate for State Treasurer, will deliver an address.

A base ball team comprised of Paul Kirk, Jarvis Williams, Jos. Williams, Chas. Bitters, Dennis Driscoll, John Burge, Jos. McPherson, Fred Smith and Hugh Rolly, went to Punxsutawney Thursday to play a team at that place. In the first inning Punxsutawney boys made 14 scores. After that the game was well played. The final score was 17-5.

A woman who was pestered, as many people are, by other folks' chickens scratching up her flower bed and littering her yard, lit on a novel scheme for conveying a gentle hint to her neighbors. She tied a lot of small cards with strong thread to big kernels of corn and wrote on the cards, "Please keep your chickens at home." The chickens ate the corn and carried the message to their owners in a fashion that was startling and effective.—EK.

The school directors of Winslow township held their regular monthly meeting in Reynoldsville last Saturday. The contract was let to T. E. McCroight to furnish coal for the township schools. Chas. E. Cough was elected principal of the Sykesville schools. All the township schools are to open not later than the last Monday of September, which is the last day of month, and any teachers that want to can begin their schools the middle of September.

The once-powerful corporation of the Bell, Lewis and Yates coal mining company seems to have fallen from its high estate. At one time it was the most prominent factor in the Buffalo coal market. But its recent separation with the Rochester and Pittsburgh coal and iron company and the capture of all the large contracts by competing producers seems to have demoralized the company to such an extent that the closing of its largest DuBois mine is the cap shaft of its decline. Another year, however, may see a better state of affairs.—Brookwayville Record.

Farewell Sermon.

Rev. P. J. Slattery preached his farewell sermon in the M. E. church Sunday evening and went to Erie Tuesday morning to attend the annual conference. Who the new preacher for Reynoldsville will be is unknown to the members of the church at this place.

Pastor Happy.

The members of Zion Cumberland Presbyterian church at Panic, Pa., presented their pastor, Rev. Harry G. Tongarden, with a handsome set of "The International Cyclopaedia." The young pastor is very proud of the valuable gift and certainly appreciates it.

John Lord Dead.

John Lord was born in Clearfield county Nov. 11, 1822, died Sept. 7th, 1895, was, therefore, almost 73 years old. He moved to Reynoldsville about eight years ago. His wife and four sons survive him. The deceased was a quiet and honorable citizen. Funeral services were held at the house Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. P. J. Slattery, and his mortal remains interred in Beulah cemetery.

Two Traps A Day.

A. A. Swab has put on a regular hack between Reynoldsville and Rathmel. It has been scheduled as follows: Leave Rathmel at 1:00 and 3:00 P. M.; leave Reynoldsville at 2:30 and 4:30 P. M. It will be noticed that the hack does not run in the forenoon. Mr. Swab has made arrangements with a number of Reynoldsville merchants so that any of the Rathmel people buying $2.00 worth of goods can get a ticket for a free ride one way.

Call for a Meeting.

A meeting of the citizens of Reynoldsville will be held in the opera house on Tuesday evening to make arrangements for the 10th reunion of the 105th Regiment Pa. V. V., to be held in Reynoldsville on Thursday, Oct. 17th, 1895. It is hoped the people of Reynoldsville will take an interest in the matter and attend the meeting with the intention of doing what they can to make the reunion a success. Everybody is invited to attend the meeting next Tuesday evening.

Travel-stained and Weary.

Frank Hoover and Wm. Bush, who went to Washington State four months ago, returned to Reynoldsville last Thursday travel-stained and tired, and Hoover had the use of only one foot, the other one was bandaged and shoeless. He was working on a railroad bridge and got his left foot smashed. Of course Washington and Oregon are good states to go to, but the climate, &c., &c., did not agree with these two gentlemen and they returned to the old Keystone state.

A Big Reunion.

Lawyer G. M. McDonald mounted his "bike" and rode to Marion Center, Indiana county, last Wednesday to attend a reunion of the descendants of John Stuchell, who was a pioneer of that county. Mr. Stuchell moved into the county in 1785 with a family of seven children. His children married and their children and children's children were matrimonially inclined and now the living descendants are very numerous, over five hundred of them attended the reunion last week. The lineage of John Stuchell, printed in pamphlet form, was given to all the families represented at the reunion.

An African-Italian Fracas.

It took several buckets of water to wash the Italian blood off the sidewalk in front of H. S. Beinap's wholesale liquor house last Wednesday afternoon that had run from the head of Frank Leo, who works for Beinap. Edward Blackwell, the colored man who has charge of the Hotel Dillman restaurant, was washing the front windows of the hotel and he and the Italian had some words which resulted in the negro hitting the Italian on the head with the nozzle end of the hose he was using. The Italian was knocked insensible. He was carried to Dr. Murray's office where a very ugly cut on his forehead was sewed up. A warrant was issued for Blackwell that evening and he was taken before Esq. Neff. He was placed under $500.00 bail for his appearance before Squire Neff on the 16th instant for a hearing.

No Mrs. Need Apply.

Nine years ago the N. T. L. Society was organized by thirty young ladies of the Presbyterian church. Whenever a member gets married she forfeits her membership, but even this does not keep the ladies from getting married when a good chance comes their way. Out of the original thirty only a few remain. Two members died. New ones have been taken into the society and they too skip over into the matrimonial state when the proper inducement is offered, and now the N. T. L. Society only numbers eleven, one of whom is going away and another is contemplating taking a sail on the sea of matrimony. Miss Mary Cooper entertained the Society Wednesday afternoon as a farewell party in honor of Miss Linnie Reynolds, who expects to go west in a few weeks. This Society has proven itself a benefit to the Presbyterian church by its work and financial assistance.

Six Cars Piled Up.

Last Wednesday at noon Engineer Lon Applegate and Conductor Ira Smith were coming to Reynoldsville with a train of empty coal cars over the R. & F. C. R. R. and when within half a mile of town a cow got onto the track and was caught by the engine, which was running backwards. The engine and three cars passed over the cow but the fourth car was thrown off the track and before the train could be stopped six cars piled up promiscuously. One car was up the embankment on one side without wheels under it and another car was down the embankment on the opposite side in the same condition, while others were piled up on top of one another. Bert Hays was on the car in front of the first one that left the rails. The cow raised the tank of the engine and came very nearly throwing it off. Within a few feet of where the engine first struck the cow her heart was lying between the rails as clean as if it had been cut out with a knife. About ten feet from her heart was her liver and about twenty feet from that the cow was lying at one side of the track. The cow's neck was badly mangled. This may be a case where the animal got so badly frightened that her heart jumped out of her mouth. The cow, which belonged to David Reynolds, got out of the field and strayed onto the railroad.

It took sometime to clear the track. Some of the cars were dumped over the hill to be gathered up when it could be done without delaying trains and stopping work at the mines.

It Enlivens the "Devil."

The "devil" of this office was perched on an unpatented stool, generally used in a print shop, last Wednesday afternoon slowly distributing type into the right or wrong box—little caring which—and congratulating himself that he had seen the Earth's shadow pass athwart the face of Luna the night before; seriously thinking of being too sick to handle type on Saturday but well enough to attend the circus; wondering why so many people got married and forget to send wedding cake to the printing office, and was musing on other things pertaining to the terrestrial, when two or three maidens entered the office with a box of wedding cake. The perfume of their presence was yet fresh in the sanctum sanctorum when a kind hearted citizen walked into the office with a large luscious water-melon under his arm which he had purchased for the express purpose of giving the printers an opportunity of getting enough water-melon for once. It is needless to add that the don't-care-whether-I-live-or-die expression that had been lurking in the left hand corner of the "devil's" eyes had departed before the philanthropist had time to say "good afternoon." Any one doubting that the "devil" and other members of THE STAR office force relish wedding cake—or any other kind of that matter—water-melon, peaches, apples, &c., all that is necessary is to bring a supply to the office and the evidence will soon be produced to prove our assertions.

W. L. McCracken Declines.

William Lyons McCracken, Esq., of Brookville, father of Joseph Sibley McCracken, who was nominated at the recent Democratic county convention as candidate for President Judge of Jefferson county, in the following letter, addressed to G. M. McDonald, Chairman of the Democratic County Committee, declines the nomination:

"Through you I desire to say to the Democratic voters of Jefferson county that, after fully considering the matter, I have concluded to respectfully decline the nomination for the office of President Judge, tendered me by the recent Democratic county convention. This step is taken not only in my own interest, but in the interest of the Democratic party as well. With the most kindly feeling towards those who have assured me of their support, and duly appreciating the honor they have conferred upon me, I desire to thank the Democrats of the county for the honor of the nomination, and for their expressions of confidence in the past, and also to express my regret that I am unable to be their candidate at this time."

West Reynoldsville School.

The West Reynoldsville schools began Monday with the following corps of teachers: Prof. C. K. Hawthorne, principal, Misses Taey Dempsey, Hannah Stauffer and Jennie White. Prof. Hawthorne has taught school seven terms, has a permanent State certificate and is a bright young man. He is a self-made man. By hard work during vacation he succeeded in getting an education. There is no reason, with the talent employed for each room, why the West Reynoldsville schools should not be all that could be expected during the ensuing term.

Miners' Mass Meeting.

A general mass meeting of all miners of Reynoldsville, Rathmel, Sandy Valley, Falls Creek and London mines will be held at Rathmel at 10.00 A. M. Saturday, Sept. 14th, to discuss the mining situation with a view of asking an advance of 5 cents a ton.

While some goods are higher, many are lower. Don't fail to see Robinson & Mundorf for prices.

Coats and capes, latest styles, you can get at Bing & Co's. Over $8,000.00 worth of clothing and men's furnishings just arrived at Millrens.

OUR CITIZENS INDIGNANT.

A Young Lady Injured by a Stone in the Hands of a Villain.

The good citizens of our town are justly indignant over the action of a dastardly whelp, who should be ostracized from the society of civilized people and banished to an island where slimy reptiles could tickle him with their poisonous tongues. Our vocabulary fails us to find words sufficient to express the utter contempt for a creature that walks erect and dresses in men's clothing who would deliberately, without any provocation, hurl a stone at a party of young people who were enjoying themselves, as was done in Reynoldsville one night last week. A party of DuBois young people came to Reynoldsville last Wednesday night at ten o'clock for a pleasure trip on a wagon filled with hay. When about opposite the school house a man standing on the sidewalk threw a stone at them. The stone struck one of the young ladies, a Miss Hannas, on the right side of the head and cut an ugly gash. The party stopped at Hotel Dillman and Dr. S. Reynolds bandaged the young lady's head.

When George W. Stoke jr. was going home Wednesday night he saw a man in front of the school house acting very suspiciously, to which he called the attention of a young man walking home with him. Just as George arrived at his home, near the Burns House, the DuBois party was coming into town. Who the man was is unanswerable and the only reason we can give for his act is that the infernal fumes that fill his hide had to escape.

The people of Reynoldsville are sorry that such villains are at liberty, and assure the people of DuBois that if he is discovered he will be dealt with to the full extent of the law.

Thirty Cents a Ton.

Men are mining coal in the Hamilton mine at this place for thirty cents a ton, and the following clipped from the DuBois Courier of Tuesday, Sept. 10th, shows that the men in London mine are working for 30 cents:

Several days ago it was reported that the Bell, Lewis & Yates company proposed to reduce the price of pick mining at London mine and yesterday the report was confirmed. It will be well remembered that London is the only mine of three operated here by the company at which work is not wholly suspended. The company's proposition to the men who are working there, the Courier has been informed, was work to average five days in a week at 30 cents, or work as before, about two days a week at 35 cents, and the majority of the men seemed to prefer the 30-cent proposition. The last three days of last week the men got in full time, and Monday was a full day. A miner told the Courier that if the miners were furnished with all the cars they could use and were given a chance to do all they could do, they could earn about $1.70 per day net at the reduced price, but he did not expect they would be able to get more than $1 clear for each day's work, judging from the amount of coal the number of men employed would likely put out each day and the past and present conditions in general. The price is below the lowest in the history of mining since the present publishers of the Courier were in business here, and if offered a few years ago it would not have been regarded as offered with serious intentions.

Notices were posted at Rochester mine last evening that the men could go to work in that mine at 30 cents.

Mishap to a Wheelman.

Frank Reynolds, M. F. Johnson and Bert Cox of Reynoldsville, started for DuBois Sunday afternoon on their bicycles. When near the watering trough, at the Marshall farm, about two miles from DuBois, Johnson ran into Reynolds' wheel, breaking off the front fork. Johnson and Cox came to DuBois, to secure a wagon in which to haul the damaged wheel to Reynoldsville. They were unable to secure a team, every available vehicle having been pressed into service for the camp meeting at Sykesville. The young men then returned to Reynoldsville, and sent a wagon from that place.—DuBois Express.

Two Victims of the "Bike."

John L. Brennan was riding his bicycle through West Reynoldsville at fast speed last evening and it slid at a mud hole and jump out from under the rider. Mr. Brennan's left shoulder was partially dislocated. He now carries his left arm in a sling.

Roman E. Koehler, foreman of THE STAR office, was thrown off his bicycle on the race track Monday evening. His left leg was bruised and skinned so badly that it don't want to go very fast, his face was skinned and a new pair of pants ruined.

John G. Woolly, of Chicago, speaking of the celebrated Nebraska vocalists who will sing in Centennial hall Friday night says: "Mr. and Mrs. Beveridge are a concert, a comedy, a political party, a dominant issue, a prohibition newspaper, a ratification meeting, and a Methodist revival all in one."

H. J. Nickle invites everybody to call at the Reed building and examine her stock of all kinds of goods usually kept in a variety store. The goods are all good quality at reasonable prices.

Moore & Dickinson are headquarters for the world's famous Minnehaha Flour, the highest grade patent flour made, and we guarantee every sack to give satisfaction.
